

Arts & Artists

This is what we have compiled so far for resources about Arts & Artists in your Lutheran homeschool.

Deb Herman, a retired Lutheran professor from Concordia University Chicago, sells art history lessons here. Her program is called Artists and Their Art: Sharing Visual Stories. There are 80 lessons, spanning grades 1 through 8, and you can see the artists she highlights from that page!

A non-Lutheran but still high quality resource is enrichmentstudies.com, which offers a free downloadable product every month. There are a LOT of options here, between the freebies & purchase options, including Daily Art, Art Appreciation, Bible Art, Composers, Sound Bites, Jazz and all sorts of things.

Another great option is to look up art museums that offer virtual tours! Also, there are many great art books.

Let us know if you come across more! We're still forming these compiled lists of resources!

<https://www.lutheranhomeschool.com/product/arts-artists/>